The United States today faces serious security challenges from the threat of attacks on its digital information and related communications infrastructure. In order to provide protection against these threats, the Administration has instituted a series of requirements to be met by all agencies through the implementation of FICAM (Federal Identity, Credentialing and Access Management). Emergent Consulting will guide your Agency in evaluating business processes and technical capabilities against the ICAM architecture, by providing a thorough FICAM Strategy Assessment.

The Emergent Consulting FICAM Strategy Assessment addresses the security threats and reduces the complexity of implementing the FICAM architecture by solving the challenges faced by the public sector. The end result of the Emergent Consulting FICAM Strategy Assessment is a comprehensive evaluation of your agency's ICAM processes, guided by our specialized Cyber Security Consulting experts.

The Emergent Consulting FICAM Strategy Assessment is accomplished through a series of audits and checks to establish a thorough and exact solution.
